Our commitment

SISU Wellness Ltd, trading as SISU Health, is committed to acting ethically and responsibly and to preventing modern slavery and human trafficking within our business and supply chain.

Modern slavery can include forced or compulsory labour, human trafficking, servitude, debt bondage and child labour. We do not tolerate these practices in any part of our operations or in organisations with which we do business.

Our organisation and supply chain

SISU Health is a UK digital health company providing health assessment technology, software and associated services. Our supply chain principally includes technology, manufacturing, logistics, professional services and other business-service providers.

We recognise that risks may vary between suppliers, sectors and countries. We apply proportionate checks when appointing and managing suppliers, particularly where the nature or location of the goods or services may create an increased risk.

Our approach

SISU Health:

- expects employees, contractors, suppliers and business partners to comply with applicable employment, labour and human-rights legislation;
- will not knowingly support or work with an organisation involved in modern slavery or human trafficking;
- considers ethical, employment and supply-chain risks as part of proportionate supplier selection and management;
- encourages employees and business partners to raise concerns without fear of retaliation;
- investigates credible concerns and takes appropriate action, which may include terminating a supplier or business relationship; and
- reviews its approach periodically and seeks to improve its practices as the business and supply chain develop.

Employees and contractors are made aware of their responsibility to identify and report concerns.
